(Extract from Daily Press.)

An Eminent London Authority

asserts that a large percentage of the sickness of the world is caused by adulteration of the necessaries of life. It is undoubtedly true that 90 per cent of the poor cooking in pies, cakes, and puddings is caused by impure spices. Housekeepers should, therefore, be sure to procure absolutely pure spices.

The picture on the other side of this card is a perfect representation of the natural tree and fruit.
